Sustainability

"ICF is using the Super Cup 2024 as a pilot project for environmental sustainability, representing a significant step in our commitment to promoting eco-friendly practices in sports. Planning for this initiative has been underway for some time, with a dedicated ICF sustainability team overseeing every stage of implementation. ICF is partnering with DECK, Alibaba, and national federations – along with you, our athletes, even if you weren't fully aware.

ICF's baseline commitment involves collecting carbon emission data from various aspects of the Super Cup, such as food catering, venue energy use, and transportation. This data will help us estimate the event's carbon footprint. Beyond carbon accounting, ICF is striving to introduce innovative environmental practices not yet seen in other canoe and kayak events. These include:

- Reusable temporary constructions and promotional materials
- Advertisement of sustainability ideologies, integrated into the event advertisement
- Local renting of equipment and gear.

The most impactful of these efforts is the local renting of boats and sports gear, made only possible with your support. ICF sincerely thank you for contributing to this initiative, as local rentals have significantly reduced costs and carbon emissions from boat transportation.

We look forward to sharing your legacy and commitment in our Super Cup sustainability report, which will be released and shared within six months.

Now is the time to think about what you can do to make a difference – thanks

Accreditation to the Venue

- Accreditation is required and cards are issued directly in the hotel lobby. You should all be sorted by now

Security

- There is security during the night.
- The Organising Committee recommends not leaving anything valuable in the tents, the cars or at the competition venue.
- The Organising Committee will not accept liability in case of theft or disappearance of equipment from the site.
