As president of the Royal Spanish Canoe Federation, I am pleased to share with you the first Bulletin for this major world competition, held in a location with a long history of organizing top-level events.

In fact, the Eurochallenge, which celebrated its 16th edition in 2025, has become a must-attend event for all paddlers competing in this discipline, and the experience already consolidated over the years makes this town perfect for hosting this world championship. WELCOME

TO LA VILA JOIOSA ALICANTE | SPAIN

La Vila Joiosa is a place of history, nature and sea. Each of the many civilizations that have passed through this land has left its mark. Today, visitors can admire Egyptian artefacts brought by the Phoenicians, such as the 6th-century BC New Year flask, an Iberian sanctuary, and the largest Roman ship ever excavated in the Mediterranean, among many other significant remains that highlight the historical importance of the town.

Its history has always been closely linked to the sea: a Mediterranean coastline full of light and life, stretching along 12 kilometres of shore in this traditional fishing town on the Costa Blanca.

VILAMUSEU

Vilamuseu is the city museum and the hub of the Network of Museums and Monuments of La Vila Joiosa.

It is considered one of the most accessible museums in Europe. Vilamuseu is designed to guarantee full access to both the building and its contents for everyone. The main goal of the museum and its team is to ensure universal enjoyment of heritage by removing physical, sensory, cognitive, psychological, cultural and economic barriers.

Vilamuseu also houses the Interpretation Centre of the Bou Ferrer Shipwreck, a 30-metre-long Roman vessel that was sailing to Rome carrying thousands of amphorae filled with garum — a highly prized fish sauce in Roman times — and lead ingots belonging to Emperor Nero.

Opened in 2016, Vilamuseu is located on the site of the former Dr Esquerdo Public School. Its original façade has been integrated into the new building and is an example of historicist architecture: the twin windows evoke medieval palaces, while the ovals and arrow-shaped elements recall Greek and Roman styles.

With a contemporary design, Vilamuseu offers bright, open spaces and visual connections between floors to facilitate orientation. Visitors can also observe the restoration techniques used by professionals in the conservation workshop. Wide circulation areas, colour contrasts between floors, tactile information, easy-to-read texts and other features reflect the extensive application of universal design principles.

Thanks to its inclusive design and contents, Vilamuseu has received several awards, including recognition from the Design for All Foundation.

Furthermore, Vilamuseu currently serves as a satellite campus of the University of Alicante in La Vila Joiosa, offering a diverse cultural and academic programme.

BARBERA DELS ARAGONÉS

The Cross Pattée of the Knights Templar is the family emblem of the Aragonés lineage, which is why it appears on many objects in this house-museum. According to heraldic records, the Templar Juan Aragonés arrived in La Vila Joiosa with King James I in the 13th century.

His descendants held important political, military and religious positions until the 19th century and were the owners of this 17th-century country house, which has since been transformed into a romantic palace and museum.

CHOCOLATE

The aroma of roasted cocoa welcomes visitors to one of the oldest chocolate factories in Spain. This distinctive scent, produced during the roasting of cocoa beans, is one of the defining features of this factory, which follows the "bean to bar" philosophy — controlling the entire production process from raw bean to finished chocolate.

The museum houses one of the finest collections of chocolate-industry machinery, spanning different periods from traditional stone grinding to modern production techniques. Visitors can learn about the evolution of chocolate-making since 1881, when Valeriano López began his journey in

The exhibition also traces the growth of the Valor brand, changes in packaging design and the development of its various product lines. Overall, it offers a complete insight into an internationally renowned company that has grown alongside five generations of master chocolatiers.

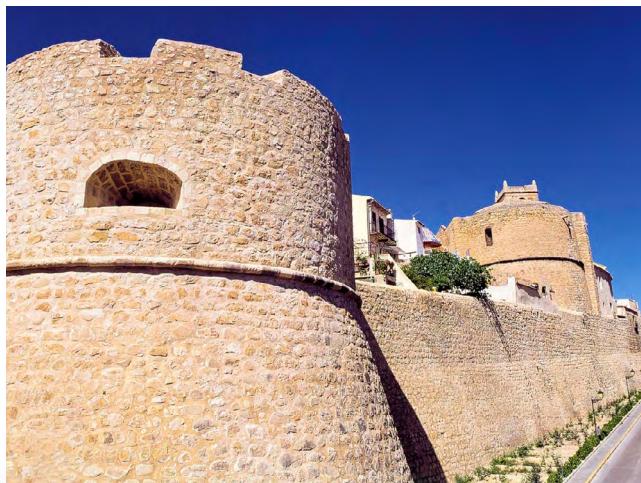

The experience concludes with a guided tour of the modern Chocolates Valor factory and a tasting in the shop. Each year, around 100,000 people visit this museum, which has become one of the key cultural and promotional attractions of La Vila Joiosa.

HISTORICAL & CULTURAL HERITAGE

La Vila Joiosa has more than 3,000 years of history, evidenced by archaeological remains found throughout the area that highlight the town's historical significance. Many of the traces left by the civilisations that once inhabited this land can still be seen in their original locations or displayed in local museums.

Visiting La Vila Joiosa is therefore a journey through time: from the Iberian Sanctuary of La Malladeta to the Roman municipium of Allon, home to the largest underwater shipwreck excavated in the Mediterranean; from the Old Town, declared a Site of Cultural Interest (BIC) and one of the best-preserved historic centres in the Valencian Community, to its anti-corsair defence towers, port and shipyards, once the second most important naval registry in Spain.

AUDITORIUM THEATRE

The Auditorium Theatre, with a seating capacity of 820 people, is a modern and distinctive building designed by architects José M^a Torres Nadal and Antonio Marquerie. It was selected for exhibition at the Museum of Modern Art (MoMA) in New York as a reference project of contemporary Spanish architecture.

The Teatre Auditori is the centre of the town's cultural management and offers a varied programme throughout the year, except in July and August. During the summer months, cultural activities move to other spaces. In August, for example, the 'Teatre i Carrer' programme fills the streets and squares with theatre and multidisciplinary performances.

BARBERA DELS ARAGONÉS

This open-air auditorium hosts most of the summer cultural events. It is located in the gardens of the Barbera dels Aragonés House-Museum, a 17th-century country house transformed into a romantic mansion that once belonged to the Aragonés family, a prominent lineage of politicians, military figures and religious leaders.

At the beginning of the 21st century, after becoming municipally owned, the house was converted into a museum and its surrounding grounds into a green space in the city centre, now a popular meeting point. The area includes children's playgrounds and an archaeological garden displaying remains relocated from nearby excavations.

Another cultural space within La Barbera is the EAC (Espai d'Art Contemporani), located in the former stables of the estate and now hosting regular exhibitions by contemporary artists.

It hosts small-format performances and events aimed at more intimate audiences. The centre's main hall also accommodates a variety of exhibitions throughout the year.

Whether you decide to spend a few days, a holiday or a lifetime in La Vila Joiosa, you will enjoy a rich cultural offering — the perfect complement to beach days, hiking routes, water sports or tasting excellent rice and fish dishes on a charming terrace overlooking the Mediterranean.

And after the theatre... how about some chocolate?
